Mum's misery over 'slugs and mould'

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

A FAMILY have "been through hell" as they have been forced to make use of a bathroom covered in mould where slugs slither in through the window.

Pregnant mother-of-three Hannah Holloway, 27, says her family may have to move out of their Havebury Housing Partnership-owned home in St Margaret's Place, Stradishall, if the problem is not soon sorted.

Mrs Holloway, who is asthmatic, says that despite her efforts scrubbing grouting with a toothbrush, thick black mould between the tiles in her bathroom won't budge – and she says the housing association won't replace the tiles.

The family have been leaving the bathroom window open to avoid making the problem worse with condensation – but this has meant the house has been cold.

Mrs Holloway, who works at John Lewis in Cambridge, said: "We have slugs climbing all over the walls. I have had slugs in the children's bath.

"I feel miserable, really unhappy."

The latest visit by a contractor has led to Havebury this week replacing the mouldy skirting in her bathroom and servicing the extractor fan – but they are not going to do anything about the tiling.

Mrs Holloway said: "In six months' time it's going to be exactly the same."

She believes the only way the problem will be solved is if the tiles are removed and the walls behind it are mould-treated.

But she says she has been told over the phone simply to clean the bathroom. She has also received a letter from Havebury's maintenance co-ordinator Michael Whatley which said: "I have to request that your bathroom is cleaned so our technician can attend to repairs."

Mrs Holloway described the requests to clean the bathroom as a "massive insult", saying: "I do as much as I can to keep it at bay."

She is concerned about the effects the mould could be having on the health of her children, aged 3, 4 and 7, particularly her middle son Alfie, who is also asthmatic and has recently been diagnosed with a chromosomal abnormality.

"It's really, really dangerous and detrimental to health to be breathing in mould spores," Mrs Holloway said.

Her baby is due at the end of summer and she says if the tiling is not replaced by then, her family may have to move out to avoid bringing a newborn into their current conditions.

"I can't go into another winter like this. It's been hell," said Mrs Holloway.

Karen Mayhew, chief executive of Havebury Housing Partnership, said: "We are sorry to hear of Mrs Holloway's difficulties with her home.

"In response to her concerns, we have already ensured a specialist contractor inspected the bathroom, and we are currently implementing the recommendations.

"We will continue to work with Mrs Holloway providing advice and taking on any required action."

CHARITY

Sport Relief goes just swimmingly

CHARITY EVENTS: Clockwise from above, Westfield Primary Academy's "Wake and Shake" event; the staff of Haverhill Leisure Centre gearing up for the Sport Relief Mile; a zombie PE teacher at Samuel Ward Academy; young swimmers Emily Cutting, Molly Peacock, and Mathew Russell after the Swimathon

HANNAH MIRSKY

@HannahMirskyCN

HAVERHILL residents got active and took part in a national charity event over the weekend.

Sport Relief, which takes place every other year to raise money for people in difficult situations, ran from Friday to Sunday.

More than 100 people took part in fund-raising events at the Haverhill Leisure in Ehringshausen Way.

A Swimathon on Sunday saw 35 participants swim 48 miles.

A team from Haverhill charity REACH Community Projects took part, aiming to raise £500, while a trio of schoolchildren, Mathew Russell, Molly Peacock, and Emily Cutting, raised at total of £560.

Sunday also saw 85 people – including a team of leisure centre staff – take part in the Sport Relief Mile, a sponsored walk or run organised by Haverhill Leisure Centre with three different routes across the town.

The leisure centre estimates that between £430 and £1,000 was raised through entry fees for these events.

Sport Relief was also celebrated at local schools. At Westfield Primary Academy on Friday, the entire school took part in a "Wake and Shake" dance activity in the playground and raised £368.

Meanwhile, at Samuel Ward Academy on Friday, two PE teachers dressed up as zombies and were chased by students as part of a Sport Relief "Zombie fun run".

Head of PE at Samuel Ward, Rob Thompson, said: "The students really got into the spirit of it."

COURT

Man to pay £600 for criminal damage to town's trees

A MAN who admitted damaging trees has been told to pay £600.

Stuart Taylor, 34, of Haverhill's Arrandene Road, pleaded guilty to causing criminal damage to trees last August at Bury St Edmunds magistrates court on Monday.

He was ordered to pay £500 in compensation, £85 in costs and a £15 victim surcharge, and given a 12 month conditional discharge.

Borough councillor Robert Everitt said: "These were publicly owned trees that make up the local landscape close to residents' homes in this part of Haverhill. This wasn't a case of pruning of a tree overhanging the boundary line of the defendant's home address, and as such the council had a duty of care to seek redress for the damage caused. We are pleased with the outcome and hope that this will serve to deter others from taking similar action. The compensation money will be used to pay for tree works elsewhere in the Haverhill area."

Visit from a gold medalist

Clare Cunningham, who won a gold medal in a freestyle swimming event at the 1992 paralympics and has high hopes of competing as a triathlete at the upcoming Rio games.

She visited Westfield Primary Academy in Haverhill's Chalkstone Way, and took students through a fitness session. They were sponsored, raising money for charity at the same time as taking part.

PE teacher Matt Martin said: "It was a fantastic opportunity for all children to take part in what could be a once in a lifetime opportunity."

HOUSING

Plan to tackle bad landlords

A COUNCIL project to tackle rogue landlords is being rolled out in Haverhill in May.

Homes with multiple occupancy (HMOs) should be registered with the council if they have five occupants or more – but some landlords are not following the rules.

Cllr Tony Brown revealed at a meeting of Haverhill's full town council on Tuesday that a new scheme to crack down on unlicensed HMOs is planned.

He said: "We have had an ongoing problem however long I've been a councillor with some of these homes, some of these landlords."

He said that while many landlords in the town were "fantastic", what made tracking down irresponsible ones even more difficult was that homes being rented to four people or fewer didn't need a license and so were not regulated by the council.

He said tenants sometimes lived in appalling conditions. "We have had cases where we have got environmental health involved, with toilets not working – just the worst you can imagine," he said.

HANNAH MIRSKY

HMOs were brought up as a possible cause of anti-social behaviour in Haverhill at a meeting of community partnership ONE Haverhill's board last week and Cllr Brown said on Tuesday that some of the houses caused problems with police.

He continued: "The borough council will work on a strategy to identify homes that have got five or more occupants that should be licensed and aren't, but also to identify unlicensed HMOs that are causing problems and check them out to make sure people in them are being accommodated to an acceptable standard."

Borough council portfolio holder for housing Sara Mildmay-White said afterwards that work to identify HMOs that should be licensed followed on from a successful project rolled out in Newmarket. This project had successfully identified a number of these houses and led to them being inspected and the quality of housing improved. This particularly focused on fire safety, with the council working closely with the fire service.

The Haverhill project will involve the borough working closely with local councillors to listen to residents' concerns about possible HMOs and investigate any properties that may be unlicensed.

Those properties would then be inspected and brought up to an acceptable standard.

Cllr Mildmay-White said that they would only work to improve homes that didn't need a licence if there was criminal activity which meant the police needed to be involved, or if the borough had reason to believe a lot more people were living there than reported.

COUNCIL

Youth plan funds are committed

COUNCILLORS have agreed to fund the first stages of a plan to provide more for Haverhill's young people – including a possible new skate park.

The town council's youth strategy – which includes plans for a skate park in the east of Haverhill, more creative arts opportunities and a youth parliament – was discussed by the full town council at a meeting on Tuesday.

Despite raising some concerns about a survey the strategy is based on, and about whether other councils would help with youth support, councillors agreed to commit up to £53,000 to the projects. The largest portion of this – £23,000 – is set to go towards the town council's running of the On the Spot Van, which drives round the town engaging with young people.

The council's youth action group will now be able to set up sub-groups to work out how best to move each of the projects forward.

Town clerk Colin Poole said after the meeting: "I am really proud to work for a town council that robustly analyses proposals but, once satisfied, get behind them and are prepared to invest for the future of the town."

Market takes a trip round the world

YOU won't have to travel far to experience exotic flavours and crafts in a fortnight.

Haverhill's first World Village Market will take place on Friday, April 8, and Saturday, April 9, in Queen Street.

Run by the Market Square Group on behalf of St Edmundsbury Borough Council, it will feature treats including paella and churros from Spain, Chinese street food and American craft beer.

There will also be stalls selling crafts, clothing and accessories.

Music will be provided by a steel drummer on Friday between 11am and 3pm and folk-rock singer-songwriter Pembroke Tenneson will be performing on Saturday afternoon.

Paul Kennedy, of the Market Square Group, said: "We are looking to create a World Village Market with products that are unique to particular regions of the world and products that are cultural identifiers. We really feel that a local and or regional element adds to the attraction of the event, we hope that businesses in and around Haverhill will come on board."

He encouraged local people and traders looking to take part in the World Village Market to call him on 07944 599 165.

IMMIGRATION

Immigration officers swoop on takeaway

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

A CHINESE takeaway was forced to shut its doors last Wednesday – after staff in the shop were taken away by immigration authorities.

China Garden, in Haverhill's Queens Square, was visited by immigration enforcement officers at around 5.30pm on Wednesday.

The officers questioned the three members of staff who were working in the takeaway that evening about whether they had the right to live and work in this country – and found that all of them had entered the UK illegally.

The three Chinese men, aged 49, 41 and 24, were taken away to be detained pending removal from the UK.

Immigration officer Rob Gambrill said: "Given that nobody at the take-way had any right to be in the UK, the men had no option but to lock the premises as they were taken away."

The business could be facing fines of up to £60,000 – up to £20,000 for each member of staff in the country illegally – unless it can demonstrate that appropriate right to work checks were carried out.

Officers in this case were acting on intelligence.

Mr Gambrill said: "All of our operations are intelligence-led. Detailed and specific information about suspected immigration offences helps us do our job as effectively as possible and I would urge anyone with information about illegal working to get in touch."

If you have information, report it to the Home Office online at www.gov.uk/report-immigration-crime or call Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

The takeaway is open for business again.

HEALTH

Helping you stay healthy

A NEW provider has been appointed to help people in Haverhill and across Suffolk stay healthy.

Leeds Beckett University, in association with MoreLife, Quit 51 and Tobacco Free Futures, will be providing healthy lifestyle services across the county from April 1.

The new provider will combine fresh services with some that already exist, and will work closely with current providers to ensure a smooth transition period.

Leeds Beckett University's work will focus on helping people make lifestyle changes such as losing weight, giving up smoking and increasing physical activity.

Its services will also include screening groups at high risk of heart disease, doing NHS health checks outreach work and promoting healthy living to the residents of Suffolk.

This means the end of current provision by Live Well Suffolk, which was run by healthy lifestyle organisation Thrive Tribe.

Tim Roberts, managing director of Thrive Tribe, said: "We have had a tremendous five years operating in Suffolk."

Foodbank deposits £500 donation

A CHEQUE for £500 was presented to Haverhill's foodbank by a local club last week.

Haverhill Lions Club, which aims to raise money for local organisations, visited foodbank organisers REACH Community Projects on Wednesday.

The Lions handed over £500 raised at a Santa's Grotto held in December at the Sturmer Nurseries Garden Centre.

REACH Operations manager Ann Merrigan said: "We are extremely delighted at the support from Haverhill Lions Club. We are all working together for the good of the community."

Lions president Phil Cheesmur said: "We are very pleased to be able to help support the Haverhill Foodbank in the excellent work they do in supporting local people in times of crisis."

PRISON

Prison faces 'challenges'

HIGHPOINT Prison is facing "very serious challenges" – but it's still managing to deliver "reasonable outcomes", according to inspectors.

The prison in Stradishall was inspected by HM Inspectorate of Prisons between October 26 and November 6 last year, and a report on the visit was published on Tuesday.

Areas of concern for inspectors included the fact that violence between prisoners is relatively high, and that disabled, non-white and Muslim inmates' perceptions about the prison were worse than other prisoners.

Inspectors said that ineffective offender management meant some prisoners' opportunities for progression were restricted. In spite of these concerns – and others including the use of drugs at the prison – inspectors said the leadership team was doing well.

The report praises initiatives to tackle violence and the supply of drugs, and says prisoners feel poor behaviour

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

our is dealt with "robustly".

There was also praise for the provision of work and activity and the quality of teaching and learning, as well as relationships between staff and prisoners and conditions in residential units.

Inspectors also said that despite three self-inflicted deaths at the prison since 2012, levels of self-harm were low and the care of the most complicated cases of inmates at risk of self-harm and suicide was excellent.

Martin Lomas, HM deputy inspector of prisons, wrote in the report: "There is a real possibility that Highpoint could be a problematic prison."

"Sprawling multiple sites, disparate accommodation, limited staff numbers and a large population held some distance from home in a remote rural location are big risk factors."

"Highpoint's achievement is that despite this and the evidence of other significant problems, the prison is delivering reasonably well and improving on many fronts.

"Good leadership, confident and reliable staff, a commitment to decency, a culture and approach that seems to incentivise prisoners, and a focus on the basics, makes Highpoint a competent institution, much to the credit of the governor and his staff."

Outcomes for prisoners in terms of safety, respect and purposeful activity were all rated as "reasonably good" but resettlement outcomes – which means how prepared inmates are for their release – were "not sufficiently good".

A few tips on healthcare

REGARDING the article on healthcare in last week's paper, you can log on and set up your own account via the NHS which will allow you to order repeat prescriptions and if you set it up to get your prescription through the Christmas Maltings pharmacy they will deliver free of charge. Appointments can also be done on line.

Having just had my hip replaced recently and not being able to drive for a month this was a Godsend. While at the doctors I brought up the problem with the increase of housing and they confirmed there is no health centre. All they have been told is that the practice will get some extra funding. My question is why is our local MP Matthew Hancock not banging heads together at Westminster and everywhere else?

Celebrations fit for a queen

SCHOOLCHILDREN celebrated the Queen turning 90 this year with an outdoor tea party.

Barnardiston Hall School combined celebrations for the monarch's birthday with an annual Easter parade on Tuesday last week.

Younger children from the school made hats for a parade with the Queen's 90th birthday as a theme, while pupils from the nursery right up to 13 year olds took part in a treasure hunt, solving clues to find Easter surprises in the school grounds.

After the hat competition was judged and the Easter eggs eaten, children and their parents sat down for an afternoon tea in a large marquee set up in the garden of the school.

The Queen's birthday is on April 21, but it is officially celebrated in June.

Balsham

PARISH COUNCIL: The parish council discussed the following items:

County councillor report – The A1307 report had been received with the following points noted: A railway link from Haverhill to Cambridge would be too expensive but a park and ride at Fourwentways into Cambridge had been looked at in more detail.

District Councillor report – The Local Plan had still not been adopted and the hearing will not be before June.

Improvements to the Sports Pavilion – The parish council had received the plans from the architect. A meeting of the sports club representatives will be organised to discuss the plans before any decisions are made.

Linton Book Festival – The parish council agreed a donation of £100 to the Linton Book Festival, which will be open to all local residents from May 14 – 22.

HOLY WEEK CHURCH SERVICES: There is a Maundy Thursday service on March 24 at Great Abington Church at 7.30pm.

On Good Friday, March 25, there will be a meditative service of reflection on the Stations of the Cross with the Seven Churches Choir, at Holy Trinity Balsham at 11am and a service at 2pm at West Wratting. On Easter Sunday there will be a Family Communion service at 9.15am at West Wickham, at 9.15 am at Weston Colville and at 10.45 am at West Wratting and a Family Communion at 10.45am at Holy Trinity Church Balsham.

HELPING HANDS: Volunteer co-ordinators are urgently needed for this volunteer driving scheme for the villages of Balsham, West Wickham and West Wratting.

Co-ordinators are key members of the service as they make and keep a record of all telephone arrangements made between a driver and each passenger.

They also arrange the collection of repeat prescriptions from Balsham Post Office and their delivery to the pharmacy at Linton Health centre.

Ideally there are three or four co-ordinators who arrange a rota between themselves.

You do not need to drive to be a co-ordinator and all expenses for telephone calls are covered.

Contact Sara Himsworth for more information on (01223) 893975.

Cleaning for the queen – and our community

The following article was written by Castle Manor student Phoebe Ellis who is a member of the Castle Manor Eco Team...

CASTLE MANOR'S Eco Team and Haverhill Community Ambassadors joined forces to 'Clean for the Queen' last week.

Castle Manor eco students were keen to help as part of their continued efforts to make a positive difference to their environment. They made a big impact by dividing into teams to work with teachers and volunteers litter picking roads in the locality to their school.

Some were expecting low level litter dropped by students on their way to school and were pleasantly surprised to find this is not the case. This is testament to all the work the eco team have done to educate students in school to 'love where they live' and why Castle Manor Academy has both the eco schools green flag and the greenest school in Suffolk award.

On the litter pick which took place over two hours, students were sad to collect empty beer bottles and bags of dog mess thrown into the hedges of residential properties along Eastern Avenue, Beech Grove, Ash Grove and Withersfield Road.

Year 8 Eco student Stephanie said:

CLEAN-UP: Students, teachers and community ambassadors pictured during the litter pick. Mayor, Cllr Betty McLatchy, also attended to support and thank the children for their hard work.

"People think it's children that drop rubbish but today we can see it is adults who show a lack of respect for where they live and each other.

"If you have a dog you should be a good pet owner and be nice to your neighbours. School children do not want to tread in dogs' mess on their way to school, it's not nice and one man told us that residents are fed up with it."

Mrs Baldwin, who co-ordinates the eco team, said: "I am proud of our eco team and all they have achieved. Even though we are litter picking today to 'Clean for the Queen' this should not be a one-off event. It is the responsibility of everyone to keep where we live clean."

POLITICS

Mayor 'no go' in devolution deal

A DEVOLUTION deal involving Suffolk, Cambridgeshire and Norfolk, worth more than £1 billion for East Anglia, has hit a snag.

Cambridgeshire county councillors said this week the deal was "not acceptable" in its current form with a directly-elected mayor for the region.

But the council decided to remain at the negotiating table with Whitehall saying that devolution should be welcomed in principle.

The deal, announced as part of last week's budget speech, would see East Anglia invest £30m a year for the next 30 years in infrastructure and £175m in housing.

Councils and other organisations would be able to make decisions on infrastructure, growth, employment and skills. Currently, these decisions are made by the government.

Cllr Jennie Jenkins, chair of Suffolk Public Sector

NATALIE ROBINSON
@NatalieR_CN

Leaders Group, said: "The deal reflects the fact that Suffolk and the rest of East Anglia delivers some significant economic benefits to UK PLC and beyond through agriculture, on and offshore energy and research and innovation in science and technology.

"However, it is important to be clear that what has been published isn't a 'done deal'. It requires ratification by each of the local councils and the LEP boards.

"We will also be carrying out extensive engagement over the coming months with local communities and businesses across Suffolk with feedback being used to inform the paper that councils will consider in the summer."

The directly-elected mayor is part of the deal and would also require the creation of a combined authority.

The mayor would act as chair of a combined authority and would be responsible for looking after devolution funding.

The devolution deal was supported by West Suffolk MP Matthew Hancock.

Speaking after the announcement last week, he said: "Today marks a significant step for East Anglia, with agreement across Suffolk, Norfolk, Cambridgeshire and Peterborough to work together and take power from London to make more decisions locally.

"The devolution deal brings more money, new powers, and will give us a strong local figurehead who can unite East Anglia and make our case heard locally, nationally and internationally."

Care home raises £462 for charity

A CARE home has raised £462 for Macmillan Cancer Support by holding an Easter-themed fun day.

Shearman Court sheltered accommodation in Haverhill's Mill Road held the charity event on Friday.

Residents were treated to traditional games such as hook-a-duck and hoopla, as well as seasonal activities such as an Easter egg hunt and an Easter quiz.

Housing and care manager Nicky Culleton said that the event had been a "very busy fun-packed day" and added the activities had raised an "excellent" £462. The money will go towards Macmillan, which provides support for cancer patients.

HAVERHILL HEROES

Speeches and smiles as town names its community heroes

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirsky

CROWDS turned out last night as the first ever Haverhill Heroes were named at a glitzy awards ceremony put together by Year Seven students.

The awards, organised by the Castle Partnership Academy Trust and the News, were launched in October in order to celebrate the unsung heroes of the town.

After a period of nominations which closed in December, a panel of judges went through the nominations, selected a shortlist of three, announced in January, and a winner for each award.

At the awards ceremony, refreshments, decorations, goody bags and the trophies themselves were all created by students in Year Seven at Castle Manor Academy.

Students took to the podium during the evening to read speeches about each of the nominated finalists.

The awards were presented by Mayor of Haverhill Betty McLatchy and chair of Cambridge United Football Club David Dogget.

A video featuring Mavis, an "old Suffolk girl" created by Britain's Got Talent puppeteer Laura Bacon, who is originally from Haverhill, congratulated the winners and all those involved in creating the event.

The crowds were treated to entertainment from local band Dale Bennett and the Incidentals, as well as drama performances from the Castle Manor Year Sevens. The awards host for the evening was chair of Haverhill's Chamber of Commerce Paul Donno.

Vanessa Whitcombe, head of School at Castle Manor, said: "Tonight was an amazing event which provided the whole town with an opportunity to celebrate our local heroes."

"It is wonderful to see so many people gathered to celebrate in this way and impressive that our Year Seven students have produced such a professional event."

Editor of the Haverhill News, Wendy Davey, said: "It has been great reading the stories over the last few months of such remarkable people in our town, who go the extra mile and make a real difference to the people and community around them. They are all such worthy winners.

"The students at Castle Manor have also done an amazing job in organising the awards night."

Winners are listed below. Joni Andre, who was a finalist in the young person's category, received a special recognition at the end of the night as she was nominated in three categories: young person, volunteer and act of kindness.

She was presented with a bunch of flowers and some money to help her fund more charity events to raise money for East Anglian Children's Hospices.

The awards ceremony was sponsored by chemical manufacturer Sanofi, and each category had its own sponsor.

Category sponsors participated in the awards, judging and choosing the prizes for the winners.

The young person's award was sponsored by Sarand Software, the volunteer in the community award was sponsored by Preview Property Services, and the sporting award was sponsored by Abbeycroft Leisure.

The Castle Partnership Academy Trust sponsored the act of kindness award and the business award was sponsored by 1 Accounts Online.

And the winners are...

■ YOUNG PERSON'S AWARD: Kurt Hatfield

Kurt spent his childhood fighting a rare disease called congenital neutropenia.

He had 84 operations and spent 11 and a half months of 2003 in hospital. But after a bone marrow transplant, Kurt, now 25, runs his own barbershop.

He was presented with a £100 Aerocycles voucher to put towards a new bike.

Runners up were Joni Andre, a 9-year-old who spent a year fundraising for East Anglian Children's Hospices, and 22-year-old REACH foodbank volunteer Katie Gregory.

■ VOLUNTEER IN THE COMMUNITY: Ben Mayes

Ben is partially-sighted and has learning difficulties. He visits the REACH foodbank in Falconer Road with his support worker every week to pack boxes for people in desperate circumstances.

Ben was presented with a high-tech pair of headphones.

Runners up were Rose Felloni, who fundraises for the Prader-Willi Syndrome Association and the Haverhill Community First Responders.

■ ACT OF KINDNESS: Ji-Sun Munro

Ji-Sun, who is just seven years old, has a key to her elderly neighbour Laurel's house and pops round every day to chat, make a cup of coffee and do chores.

Ji-Sun was presented with a voucher for afternoon tea at Harriet's Tea Room in Cambridge.

Runners-up were Sarah Savine, who leads the Suffolk Mind allotment project in Haverhill and Trevor Brooks, the lollipop man for Burton End Primary Academy.

■ SPORTING AWARD: Dominika Szary

Dominika helped to set up the Haverhill Hornets volleyball team after moving to the UK at the age of 11. She now coaches the team and has taken part in Volleyball England's National Talent Camps for young coaches, even being named Young Coach of the Year.

Dominika was presented with a year's Abbeycroft Leisure membership.

Runners up were Keri Tobin, who won Haverhill Tennis Club's adult ladies' singles title aged just 12, and Thomas Newman, who coaches football at Burton End Primary Academy and plays for the Haverhill Rovers U18s.

■ BUSINESS IN THE COMMUNITY: TVL Video

TVL Video, based in Camps Road, has been running for 30 years and has built up a membership base of 18,000 people. Owner Colin Richards has built up relationships with customers, helping them with paperwork and taking them to hospital appointments.

Colin was presented with a bottle of champagne and a voucher for Boynton Hall vineyard.

Runners up in this category were Nisa Stores in Kedington run by Dilip and Daxa Visna, and Sandcastle Playgroup based at Castle Manor Academy.

■ LOCAL FOOD PRODUCE: Sturmer Nurseries

The cafe at Sturmer Nurseries garden centre opened just under two years ago.

Samantha Mason, who runs the cafe, has made an effort to source all produce as locally as possible and to have a green ethos.

The cafe's team was presented with a voucher for wine tasting for two at Baythorne Hall.

The runners up in this category were Kedington Butchers and Deja Vu Cafe, based in Queen Street.

DEVELOPMENT

Work is transforming derelict site into new boutique hotel

HANNAH MIRSKY

@HannahMirskyCN

WORK is under way to turn a derelict building into a boutique hotel – and it could be open by the end of the year.

The building in Haverhill High Street, which used to house the Bell Hotel, has been empty since November 2013.

But last November Haverhill-based company CXG lettings acquired the building, and started work on it shortly before Christmas.

Now the renovations to the top two floors are well under way, with internal walls being knocked down and building work on new walls set to start this week.

CXG plans to turn these two floors into a 12 bedroom boutique hotel. It is set to be run by a sister company to CXG which has not yet been named.

James Pilley, of CXG, said: "It's going to be aimed towards business-people. They are going to be nice rooms, very homely. We have not finalised the decor yet."

The downstairs bar area will be

NEW LEASE OF LIFE: The old Bell Hotel will become a 12 bedroom boutique hotel renovated after the work on the upstairs two floors has been completed.

It is not yet certain whether the bar will be run by the same CXG sister company as the hotel, or a separate occupier.

The plans for the renovation also include creating an external courtyard area.

Mr Pilley said: "Everybody's pretty positive about it here – we are all very excited. It's still in the early stages – we are all bouncing ideas off each other."

He said if all went to plan the bar and hotel should be open for business before the end of the year.

The site had been granted planning permission in 2014 to be converted into 11 flats and a retail unit, but CXG wanted to return it to its former use as a hotel.

The renovations come as work is being done to get a number of other long-empty sites in the town occupied. The former Co-op in Jubilee Walk, empty for four years, is now occupied by Poundstretcher, while the Project Office Furniture site in Ehringshausen Way is set to become a retail park after lying vacant since 2007.

Kebab van owner 'Stav' to retire after 30 years

HANNAH MIRSKY

@HannahMirskyCN

A KEBAB seller is retiring after 30 years running a fast food van in Haverhill – but the business will continue with a new owner.

Ertunc Mihrikani – known locally as “Stav” – first ran his kebab van in Market Square and then moved to its current pitch on the High Street, opposite Peacocks.

The 65-year-old father of two said: “I think it’s time now – 30 years is enough.”

Ertunc set up the business after moving to Cambridge in the 1980s, and now lives in Newmarket, commuting to Haverhill every evening to set up the van.

He said: “At that time, there wasn’t any takeaway kebab in Haverhill. When I started, there was only a couple of [takeaway] shops. That was my main reason.”

Ertunc’s retirement was announced on Facebook a fortnight ago, and he describes the weeks since then as some of the best while working in the kebab van.

He said: “The last couple of weeks have been unbelievable with the support from the people. They come to the van: passers-by, very young people, very old people. I really, really am going to miss the atmosphere.”

He said he had even received cards from customers about his retirement.

Ertunc will retire on Monday, but will be spending some time over the following week helping the new kebab seller, Ali Dirik, take over the business.

The van will continue to sell fast food from the same location, with the same opening hours: 7pm to 11pm on weeknights, and to 12pm on weekends.

After handing over the van, Ertunc plans to enjoy his retirement.

“Definitely, definitely I will do a pub crawl,” he said. “I work the weekends so I have saved some beer money!”

NEWS IN BRIEF

Rail link supporters step up campaign

A CAMPAIGN group working to bring a railway to Haverhill is lining up a number of publicity events.

Although the Rail Haverhill Group already has 3,000 signatures on its petition for a railway, it is hoping to collect even more and to talk to the public about reasons for supporting a rail link.

The group is set to hold a stall at Addenbrooke’s Hospital in Cambridge on Tuesday and local dance teacher Lisa Mason is choreographing a railway-inspired routine to be performed at the Haverhill Summer Bash on July 17.

To find out more about the campaign or sign the petition, visit www.railhaverhill.org.uk.

County gives £230k boost to film-making

SUFFOLK County Council wants to attract more film-makers with a new initiative.

The council is to pour £230,000 of business rates revenue into the project, which will focus on building on Suffolk’s current screen industries, attracting more film-makers to the region and promoting the county as a place that can meet the needs of the screen industries.

Suffolk film office will also work on creating a film-friendly licensing and permissions process which will ensure residents and businesses are able to support productions in the county.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Still chance to sign up for bring and buy sale

THERE'S still time for Haverhill youngsters to sign up for a free stall where they can sell unwanted items.

The town's first youth bring and buy sale, aimed at 12 to 18 year olds, will take place on the Market Square on April 8 and 9.

To book a stall email sharon.fairweather@westsuffolk.gov.uk

MP 'delighted' with employment numbers

MP for West Suffolk Matthew Hancock says he is "delighted" with new figures which show that unemployment in Haverhill has dropped by 45 per cent, with 142 more people employed than last February.

Flat fire extinguished

FIREFIGHTERS put out a blaze at a home in Haverhill last week.

The fire took place at 6.15pm on Thursday at a flat in Pentlow Hawke Close.

Two engines from Haverhill fire station attended the scene.

Firefighters used two sets of breathing apparatus and one hose reel jet to tackle the flames.

The fire was out by 6.29pm.

VILLAGERS are fighting plans for a new 95-home development.

An application to build the homes in Steeple Bumpstead was submitted by developer Gladman at the beginning of March.

Gladman's planning report says the development, on land off Finchingfield Road in the south of the village, would meet "an identified need [for housing], in an area where there has been historical substantial under-delivery."

But residents say the 95-home site would damage the character of the village and services would not cope.

They have formed a campaign group to fight the proposals. Ian MacKenzie, chair of the Hands Off Steeple Bumpstead campaign, said: "We just don't think it's sustainable for the village. It will have an effect on a number of things."

"The surgery is practically running at capacity now. If you have an additional two to three hundred people moving in that puts a huge pressure on them."

HEALTH

Warning over fake sunglasses

A HAVERHILL optician is warning residents to protect their eyes by not buying fake sunglasses.

Joanna Williams, senior optometrist at Wardale Williams in the town's Camps Road, said: "It is highly likely that many of

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

"The local school has very limited capacity – there's certainly not up to the number that would be moving into the village. You would have children going to Castle Hedingham and Haverhill for school."

"It means you will have more people using cars because that's the only way to get around."

"Traffic has always been a problem and where the development is planned the leaving points would all be through the village."

The campaign group has distributed leaflets outlining its arguments to the village's 1,700 residents, and is urging them to voice their opinions to Braintree District Council.

Mr MacKenzie said: "It literally is a case of getting the village involved. If you come into the village you will see signs in the windows."

"We are not saying we don't want development in the village – there are some plots of land that are potential development sites."

He said it was simply the scale of this development – which would be likely to tip the village population to over 2,000 – to which villagers objected.

The consultation period for the planning application runs until April 12 and Mr MacKenzie urged anyone who felt strongly about the development to submit a comment to Braintree District Council at braintree.gov.uk

He also encouraged anyone who wanted to get involved or find out more to email handsoffsteeplebumpstead@gmail.com

After the consultation period closes, there is likely to be a gap of at least 12 weeks before the planning application goes before Braintree District Council to be decided.

Mr MacKenzie said: "We could be looking at a long battle."

"We would like to believe that it will come down on our side."

Gladman Developments declined to comment.

these glasses offer little or no protection against UV leaving your eyes exposed to the risk of a range of eye complaints, including cancer."

She said that wearing sunglasses that admit UV light could actually be more damaging than not wearing sunglasses at all, as the dark lenses mean the pupil will widen, allowing more UV light in.

She advised anyone wanting to wear sunglasses to consult an optician about the level of eye protection required.

Blois Meadow is a nursery you'll love

ADVERTISING FEATURE

"ONE of the best nurseries in the country, right here on your doorstep". That's what people are saying about Blois Meadow Day Nursery in Steeple Bumpstead.

Based in a peaceful countryside setting, but just five minutes from the centre of Haverhill, Blois Meadow is a family nursery with an atmosphere very different from that of the large, "out of town shopping centre" kind of setting. Owned and managed by experienced local teacher Alison Midgley, Blois Meadow was judged 'outstanding' by Ofsted at its last inspection and, 18 months ago, was one of just five finalists for the UK's 'Nursery of the Year' award.

"We work hard to make the nursery an extension of home, not just somewhere to drop off your children" says Alison Midgley. "We are large enough to be thoroughly professional, but small enough to get to know all our children and parents and really work together to provide quality care and early education linked to play."

BLOIS MEADOW: A super nursery minutes from the heart of town

The nursery is open from 7am till 7pm on weekdays throughout the year. It cares for children of all ages, from a few months old right up to school age, and offers free funded places for children of three and four, as well as many two year olds. Staff are highly qualified and the nursery also develops younger practitioners through its own City & Guilds apprenticeship scheme.

Parents registering before April 30 and quoting this offer will receive their first two weeks free. More information from bloismeadowdaynursery.com or on (01440) 730520.

'I shed 7st – and have conquered diabetes'

A COUNCILLOR who had a heart attack just over a year ago has lost seven stone in 10 months after being told his diet could cause another.

UKIP's Mike Tew, chairman of Cambridgeshire County Council's adults committee, said suffering a heart attack on November 4, 2014, and finding out he had type 2 diabetes at the same time was a "real wake-up call" and made him rethink his lifestyle.

The 55-year-old ballooned to 17st 6lb from a diet of fizzy drinks and snacking on sausage rolls, cakes and biscuits throughout the day.

But after getting his weight down to a healthy 10st 10lb by cutting out foods with added sugar, eating a balanced diet and exercising, doctors have told him he can stop taking his diabetes medication.

"The heart attack was a real wake-up call. It was a moment that made me realise that how you behave can mean life and death," he told the News.

"I was diagnosed with diabetes when I had my heart attack. I had it when I was just about to go into an adults committee meeting.

"Before my heart attack, I wasn't very active, so I started off by walking around the block, pushing myself a bit further each time.

"I also used to drink a lot of fizzy drinks several times a day, which were high in sugar. I decided to cut them out and drink just water and eat a balanced diet, cutting out foods with any added sugar."

Doctors at Papworth Hospital,

FREYA LENG

Health correspondent

who fitted stents in his heart, said it was more than likely his lifestyle and excess weight had caused his heart attack – and could cause another.

"It was at that point I decided that I needed to make a change to live a healthier life," he said. "With these simple changes, I have now lost around seven stone and my doctors say I've reduced the risk of having a heart attack."

Cllr Tew said he feels like a new person since his weight loss – and he now wants to inspire others that it is never too late to live a healthier lifestyle.

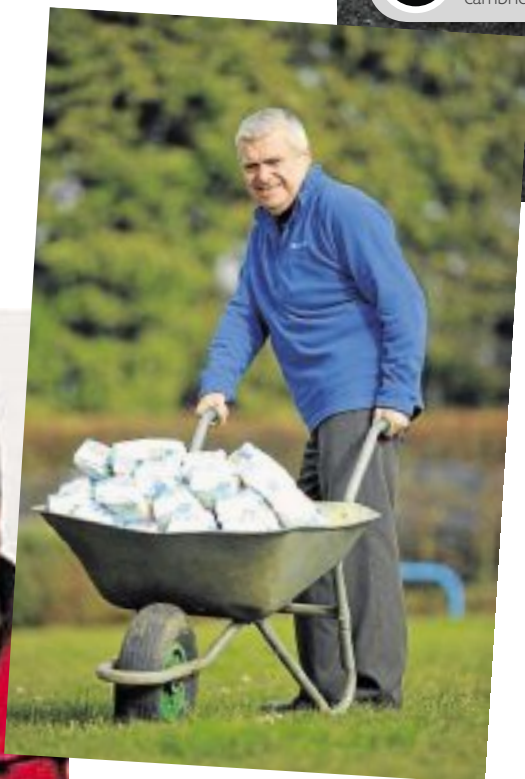

"I feel more alive now than I've ever felt," he said. "I don't want anybody else to go through it.

"Lying on that slab in Papworth while they were working on my heart and watching it on the monitors – it's very frightening.

"If you catch it early, get check-ups and get diagnosed, you won't have to go through what I did."

More features on our Health channel at cambridge-news.co.uk

SWEET: Mike Tew has lost seven stone in 10 months – that's the same as 45 bags of sugar. He weighed more than 17 stone a year ago, as the picture far left shows

'The heart attack was a real wake-up call. It was a moment that made me realise that how you behave can mean life and death'

How he did it

CLLR Tew's seven top tips for getting to a healthy weight:

- Start with small changes. As you achieve your diet and exercise goals, gradually introduce more.
- Eat well. Aim for five fruit and vegetable portions every day.
- Use colour-coded labels on food packing to choose products with low or medium fat, sugar and salt contents most of the time, rather than high.
- Swap sugary drinks for water, diet, sugar-free or no-added-sugar options.
- Still enjoy a treat, just less often. Try for once a week.
- Get moving! Start with a short activity then slowly build up to be active most days, aiming for 150 minutes in a week.
- Stay positive, find someone or something to keep you motivated and stick with it.

Students are stars in seventies song-and-dance spectacular

STUDENTS are set to help you boogie on back to the groovy 1970s with their latest musical production.

Young people from Samuel Ward Academy in Haverhill's Chalkstone Way have been performing in a production of Jai Sepple's Disco Inferno.

The musical, loosely based on the story of Faust who sold his soul to the devil, is set in the world of 1970s nightclubs, and follows the story of a young rock star called Jack.

It features such retro hits as Boogie Wonderland, Celebration and Hot Stuff. The school production also features bright retro costumes and a dazzling light show.

Students have been performing at their school from Monday this week, with the last performance at Samuel Ward Academy taking place this evening.

But if you're keen to catch this 70s spectacular, the show will also be performed at Haverhill Arts Centre this weekend, with performances at 7pm on Saturday and 4pm on Sunday.

Tickets cost £8 full price, £5 concessions, and are available at www.haverhillartscentre.co.uk or by calling the box office on (01440) 714 140.

On parade for armed forces

ARMED Forces Day is set to be celebrated with a community extravaganza in Haverhill this year – featuring parades, military vehicles, vintage teas and much more.

The event, on Saturday, June 25, in the town's Market Square, will be a far bigger celebration of the day than in previous years.

Town, borough and county councillor Tony Brown said the idea to organise the day came after public feedback on last year's flag-raising, held on the Monday of Armed Forces Week.

Cllr Brown said: "There was a lot of feedback on social media that they would have liked to have attended and it was a shame it was on a Monday."

"I thought: 'Let's try and

HANNAH MIRSKY

@HannahMirskyCN

get it on a Saturday.'

"As soon as I started talking to people about it, we thought: 'Let's go for it.' It's the first one – hopefully it will be the first of many."

Cllr Brown and fellow councillor David Roach are running a task and finish group to deliver the best possible Armed Forces Day event for the town.

They are working with the Royal British Legion, Haverhill Family History Group and Haverhill Arts Centre.

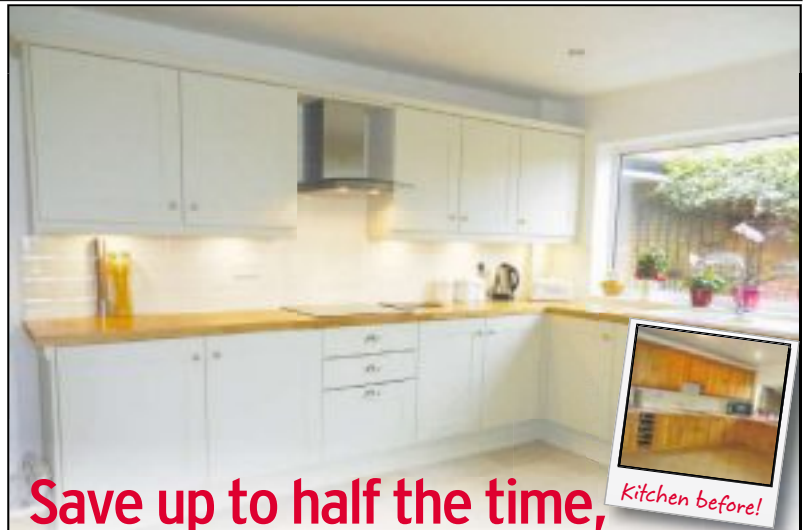

Plans for the day include having parades from various armed forces units and music from the sea cadets band, a display of vintage military vehicles and a flag-raising. The town council has applied to erect new flagpoles specially for the event, as the town's current flagpole is in Jubilee Walk.

Arts and leisure manager at Haverhill Arts Centre Nick Keeble said he was hoping to put on a vintage-style event with afternoon teas and retro music.

The Haverhill Family History Group is working on creating photobooths to line the market square, featuring pictures of servicemen and women from the Haverhill area.

Cllr Brown said: "The armed forces are one of the institutions in the country that seem to have huge backing and support. It's a way to show our appreciation."

Tunes for a good time

ON TOUR: Dominic Kirwan and his son Barry, who are performing at Haverhill Arts Centre

HAVERHILL Arts Centre welcomes the return of Dominic Kirwan on Thursday, April 7, at 7.30pm.

One of Ireland's most popular recording artists, covering a vast range of styles, Dominic is known for his show-stopping ballads sung in his rich, distinctive voice.

He also takes a refreshing new look at the finest country, pop and traditional Irish music.

For this Here For a Good Time Tour he will once again be accompanied by his popular band as well as his son Barry who is a talented musician and singer in his own right.

To book tickets go to www.haverhillartscentre.co.uk or call (01440) 714140.

■ Thursday, March 24 – Friday, April 1
 ■ Samuel Ward Academy is performing Jai Sepple's musical Disco Inferno on Saturday, March 26 at 7pm and Sunday, March 27, at 4pm. Set in 1976, the show features memorable songs of the '70s era, including Boogie Nights, Celebration and Hot Stuff. The musical is loosely based on the story of Faust – what terrible pacts could the disco-devil be making with those unsuspecting groovers?

■ The arts centre has a recorded broadcast of THE RAILWAY CHILDREN (PG) on Monday, March 28, at 3pm. York Theatre Royal's Olivier award-winning and imaginative stage adaptation is directed for the screen by the Ross MacGibbon (The Importance of Being Earnest). Filmed from the National Railway Museum in Yorkshire, the performance features the original locomotive from the much-loved 1970 film.

■ For 3 to 7-year-old children and their families, Freehand Theatre brings Frogs and Snails and Teddy Bear Tales to the arts centre on Wednesday, March 30, at 11.30am and 2.30pm. It's bear's birthday tomorrow. How will he ever get to sleep? Bedtime stories of course! Weaving together tales of the seasons, come and enjoy the inventive puppetry, music and humour of this delightful ursine show. Take along your own teddy bear to enjoy it too – bears go free!

■ On the cinema front Bill Nighy, Toby Jones, Michael Gambon and Tom Courtenay star in Dad's Army (PG) today and Wednesday, March 30, at 7.30pm. When a glamorous journalist arrives to write about their exploits, she sets the pulses racing, putting the local women on red alert. Trumbo (15) is showing on Monday, March 28, at 7.30pm. The author of Oscar-winning screenplays The Brave One and Roman Holiday, Dalton Trumbo was one of the highest-paid screenwriters of the 1940s until his left-wing beliefs made him a target of anti-Communist witch-hunt. Quentin Tarantino's The Hateful Eight (18) is showing on Tuesday, March 29, at 7.30pm. John 'The Hangman' Ruth and his prisoner Daisy Domergue travel on a stage coach in post Civil War Wyoming. There's also a bounty hunter and, unsurprisingly for a Tarantino flick, a few other bloodythirsty strangers with violent intent on the scene. On Thursday, March 31, at 7.30pm the arts centre has something for those who like to vive la difference – Rams, an Icelandic tale of warring brothers and ovines under threat. For those who missed Alan Bennett's The Lady in the Van the arts centre has another screening on Friday, April 1, at 7.30pm.

■ LISTINGS

■ Thursday, March 24, at 7.30pm DAD'S ARMY (PG). £6/£5
 ■ Friday, March 25 – GOOD FRIDAY – CLOSED

RECORDED BROADCAST: The Railway Children

ABIGAIL'S PARTY: REVIEW BY JOHN BURNS

For those of us who remembered the late 1970s as a period of strange pre-Thatcher days with massively high inflation rates and the "Winter of Discontent", some of us also remember a witty iconic Play For Today TV production shown in late 1977 that perhaps made some, more older, people think what life could be like if they were a bit more ostentatious.

So we come to Centre Stage Company's latest production at the Haverhill Arts Centre of Mike Leigh's "Abigail's Party". The five actors worked and bounced off each other extremely well together, and sometimes not bouncing off anybody at all but still diverting the show down a different avenue without any interruption.

Trying to pick a favourite is impossible. I loved Beverly (Jane Baillie), who set the scene of the play when it opened with music, cigarettes (menthol to comply with 'elf and safety') and drinks from a cabinet with a drop down door. Her forcefulness made the show what it was.

Estate agent husband Laurence (Nik Hedges) enters and has to deal with clients from work and particularly his wife who nags constantly.

Then enter the second married couple, Angela (Rebecca Boyd) and Tony (Dylan Cooper). This couple were absolutely brilliant. Angela, whose apparent mundane lifestyle is reflected in the way she does a little dance later in the show, having supped several G&T's, drew quite a laugh from the audience. Little speaking Tony is very effective throughout.

As the show progresses in comes divorcee Susan (Emma Letcher) from next door. It is her daughter, Abigail, who is having the party and who we never see or hear from. Whilst trying not to show it, she is constantly on edge worrying about what is happening in her house.

The fact this was directed by two young members of the company, Charlotte Allin and Charlotte Scammerton, was testament to their involvement over the years with the company.

HYUNDAI: Fleet sales up 10.4%

Hyundai delight as fleet profile improves

HYUNDAI Motor UK has won the coveted 'Most Improved Fleet Manufacturer' award in the Fleet News Awards 2016. Hyundai's significant fleet business growth, product innovations, process improvements, and its high level of customer service were identified as central to the win.

Last year, Hyundai grew total fleet sales by 10.7 per cent against 2014 boosted by the introduction of several important new models. The Fleet News award recognises the rapid advances made by Hyundai Motor and its introduction of several key initiatives including a structured approach to managing residual values, while maintaining affordable whole-life costs.

The Fleet News Awards is now in its 28th year.

Check mods' effect on your insurance

MODIFYING your car to add an individual element has been popular for many years now but if it costs you up to double on your insurance as a result is it time to reconsider?

A recent study based on over 2 million cases has strongly shown the vehicles that had received after market aesthetics or modifications such as exhaust systems, alloy wheels, spoilers and body kits paid a much larger premium.

This has led in the past to a large number of people not declaring their modifications: if you are one of these people then be aware, with most policies this will invalidate your cover, potentially leaving you and other road users at risk.

A custom paint job isn't a modification though so shouldn't make a difference right? Wrong: this study reports increases of up to 36 per cent to your insurance premium – even go-faster stripes & numbered decals have increased yearly insurance costs by up to 22 per cent.

An unbelievable 100 per cent

Car check with Simon Walters

premium increase has been seen during this study for those customers adding larger more intricate custom alloy wheels to their cars, these were extreme cases where the alloy wheels had increased width or sometimes wheel spacers.

Not all modifications are bad though and some have shown an decrease in premiums such as parking sensors which can reduce premiums by up to 13 per cent and tow bars by 20 per cent as insurance companies will assume you are driving slower as a result.

Car phones, turbo engines, sat-navs and spoilers are just some of the items that insurance companies flag up as danger areas – turbos and spoilers tend to mean faster cars and more chances of accidents, and car phones and sat-navs can be an advert for opportunistic theft.

Window tints appeared on the chart of modifications that increased premiums, but the average increase was one per cent so nothing to worry about there!

The main thing to take from all this is that if you want to modify your car then expect a larger insurance bill or maybe check with your insurers first, secondly make sure you inform your insurance company so as not to invalidate your insurance completely.

Latest Sports Tourer on sale

VAUXHALL STAR: From £16,585

THE new Astra Sports Tourer is now on sale priced from £16,585, with first cars arriving in Vauxhall showrooms this month.

One of the UK's top-selling and best-loved cars, Astra is a household name for British car buyers with almost three million sold in the UK over the last 36 years, including 50,000 in the last 12 months. More than 25 per cent of British motorists have either owned or driven an Astra.

The new Astra Sports Tourer features a range of fuel-efficient petrol and diesel powertrains. Lightweight construction sets the latest engine range apart from previous generations. They are smaller, more compact and lighter while simultaneously being more powerful and frugal. The new Astra Sports Tourer diesel with 110PS, for example, achieves 83.1mpg while only emitting 89g/km of CO2.

It is built at Vauxhall's Ellesmere Port manufacturing plant in Cheshire.

Infiniti Centre Cambridge planned by John Banks

INFINITI has recently signed an agreement with the John Banks Group to open up a new Infiniti Centre in Cambridge, covering the county of Cambridgeshire and to help strengthen representation across East Anglia.

Infiniti Centre Cambridge is expected to be operational from mid-April and is expected to have their fully operational facility open by the end of the year. Located in central Cambridge, just off the Newmarket Road (Swann's Road), the centre will utilise one of the new short-term Infiniti designed showrooms until the full redevelopment work, to meet with the Infiniti Retail Environment Design Initiative (IREDI) standards, has been completed.

Carl Bayliss, regional director for the UK, commented: "I am very pleased to welcome Infiniti Centre Cambridge and the John Banks Group to our growing brand. With the recent introduction of the British manufactured Q30 & QX30, the brand is accelerating its growth in the UK. Infiniti Centre Cambridge joins us at a pivotal point in our network expansion plan, and we have an exciting future ahead of us."

Melanie Banks-Browne, chief executive of John Banks Group, said: "Our own expansion plans are currently taking place and to be able to have a premium brand such as Infiniti within our portfolio means we will be able to offer our customers an even more extensive range of products, from many different brands, to suit almost any requirement they may have."

The John Banks Group is currently expanding with new premises at Swann's Road and a new servicing and repair centre soon to open in Mercers Row, Cambridge, completing five sites in the Cambridge territory.

John Banks Group, has an established presence in the region and have been trading for more than 42 years in the motor industry. By continuing to expand demonstrates they are a growing strength in the market.

Later in 2016 the Infiniti QX30

Active Crossover will arrive, providing a higher stance than the Q30 with more of an SUV like appearance. This will be followed by the two door sports coupe Q60, which recently had its first European public exposure at this year's Geneva motor show.

Infiniti is currently experiencing record breaking sales growth not only in the UK but across the world. Last year in the UK sales increased by more than 60 per cent year on year and are already showing an increase in 2016 of 67 per cent.

VAUXHALL ASTRA: Winning streak

Murketts delighted as Astra wins top title

MOTORISTS in East Anglia can now drive away in an award-winning car after the New Astra was named European Car of the Year 2016 at the Geneva Motor Show and is available now at Murketts Vauxhall, with sites in Cambridge and Huntingdon.

The prestigious award was decided by 58 leading automotive journalists from around Europe.

Going from strength-to-strength, the New Astra also scooped the top award in the hotly-contested family hatchback sector at the What Car? Awards and was named Scottish Car of the Year.

Mark Smith, group sales manager at Murketts Vauxhall, comments: "We're delighted. The Vauxhall Astra is without a doubt one of the best family hatchbacks around and there are many great deals to be snapped up."

Rovers' misery continues with loss to United

HAVERHILL Rovers suffered their fourth loss in five games in the Thurlow Nunn League, Premier Division as they went down 3-0 at home to Felixstowe & Walton United.

Rovers had the better chances in the first half, with Luke Haines and Mitchell Burr going close, and Claudio Ofosu firing just wide.

The visitors opened the scoring after 37 minutes but Rovers went close to netting five minutes later, Marcus Hunt hitting the crossbar with a speculative effort from just inside Felixstowe's half.

Football

Within five minutes of the start of the second half, two quick goals gave Felixstowe a 3-0 lead, and there was no way back for Rovers.

In the First Division, Haverhill Borough secured a point at March Town United thanks to Matt Staines' second-half equaliser.

March took the lead in the seventh minute, but Boro gradually improved, with Owen Longley's shot deflected wide by a March defender.

Both sides had penalty appeals turned down before the interval and it remained 1-0 at half time.

March came close to extending their lead early in the second half, but Boro then took the upper hand and began to create some meaningful chances.

The equaliser arrived midway through the half when Ryan Swallow's free kick fell kindly for Staines to rifle home from eight yards.

March finished the game strongly, but Boro held on to ensure they returned home with a point.
